

Program Sequential Continuity

The Polytechnic University of Puerto Rico will provide the student a program curriculum sequential aligned with the academic time length and course prerequisites. The student is responsible to follow the sequential to accomplish the graduation requirements within the corresponding time schedule. If the student is not able to follow the sequential, he or she will be responsible to develop the most effective program sequential with his or her mentor to minimize the program completion time. The department is responsible to offer the courses based on the program sequential to insure the student completion time. An annual offering plan is prepared based on the sequential timing and course prerequisites. If the course has a low enrollment, the department will develop alternatives to provide the course for the student that are in compliance with the program curriculum sequential.
